REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

FOR GOVERNOR

SELDEN CONNOR,

OF AUGUSTA.

ARE THESE FORGERIES!

The position of champion of Gen. Roberts as a patriot soldier is so irreconcilable with the flagrant disloyalty of the quondam editor of the Bangor Democrat, that he seems driven to the desperate expedient of republishing the cowardly and treasonable sentiments put forth in that paper by denouncing extracts copied directly from its columns as "forgeries." We are anxious to know who the wicked individual is that so freely used the name of Marcellus Emery as the type of the Bangor Democrat of which he was supposed to be the editor in fact, making him sponsor for sentiments that have rendered his name infamous wherever loyalty and patriotism exist. If some other person was really using Emery's name during those eventful days it ought to be made known even at this late day, and while that individual is denouncing forgeries, we may as well call his attention to a few more of the remarks of utterances put forth in his name, and never hitherto repudiated by him, for instance in the Democrat of February 19, 1861 we find the following brave and patriotic remarks:

The retaking of the forts and arsenals in the seceded States is AN IMPOSSIBILITY. It cannot be done. The people of the North should not lose a moment in MAKING UP THEIR MINDS TO ACT on the purpose of the President elect—A PURPOSE WHICH WE ALREADY KNOW FINDS A PARALLEL IN THAT OF GEORGE THE THIRD TOWARDS his subjects in America."

From the time these words were penned to the present writing straight.

When the spirit of the great Democracy of the whole North is roused AS IT SHOULD WILL BE, then the Bottles of Black Republicanism will never cross Mason & Dixon's line for the extinct of contempt. By that epoch that line they will have laid A MILLION OF DEMOCRATS in the dust."

It was also supposed to be the veritable Ram Rix Emery who said this in the Democrat of March 15, 1861:

"If the government then at Washington can, within the Federal troops from those States to the end to MAINTAIN THEIR INDEPENDENCE, and order into force the peaceful laws with them."

Again in the issue of July 9 1861 the same Democratic champion appeared as sponsor for a venomous editorial denouncing the President for calling for loyal troops and declaring

This is NOT a war for the preservation of our government or our liberties. It is a war to subject the millions of people to a government which they have abjured. The large that the confederate States do not control from the United States. Government is false. There is NOT A PARTICLE OF EVIDENCE TO SUSTAIN THE CHARGE * * * THAT EITHER OF THE STATES HAS NO LONGER ANY LAWFUL GOVERNMENT. * * * THE SECESSIONISTS HAVE NEVER SUCCEEDED.

Here are only a few specimens of the numerous utterances of the Bangor Democrat which is generally attributed to Marcellus Emery as editor and sponsor for What it has decided whether they are

Congress we shall present some other extracts equally damaging to the champion of the Democracy and the war record and in the meantime it might be well for the same person to consider and inform the public whether Mr. Marcellus uttered a libel when he published the following sentiments in the issue of November 11, 1861:

"Resolved, That the BANDS OF TRAITORS who will preside over this unholy war in the same men who so craftily concocted and enthroned the principles of the Chicago Convention, is one of the ways in which to achieve success with the invincible design to OVERTHROW THE CONSTITUTION, TRAMPLE UNDER FOOT THE LAWS OF THE UNION, AND PERPETUATE THE CURSE OF THE LIGHT OF HEAVEN."

Verdict—That the newspaper called the Democrat, published in this city by the same original editors of the legal gist of moral profligacy of the means, the causes and ends of Southern secession, by deliberately false and mendacious representation of the causes of the Rebellion, by its EXULTATIONS at all successful MOVEMENTS which happened to tend to the triumph of TREASON, by its BITTER AND CONSTANT HOSTILITY TO THE ARMED FRIENDS OF OUR COUNTRY which MAKES ITS EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS GUILTY OF TREASON and we do find all persons connected with THAT PERNICIOUS SHEET AS UNWORTHY OF PUBLIC OR PRIVATE RESPECT OR CONFIDENCE.

COL. SMITH'S LETTER.

From the Boston Journal.

A trenchant letter will be found in our columns addressed to Gen C. W. Roberts the Democratic candidate for Governor of Maine. It was was his military career, and more particularly his political career after he left the army, when he had to deal with the questions that still affected his companions in the field and the destinies of the Union for which they were contending. The record is certainly not very creditable to Gen. Roberts as it is accurately presented in this letter as we have no reason to doubt that it is. Gen Roberts fell among the peace Democrats and dealt opposers of Maine—a class of politicians about as unworthy as New England has had to show in this generation. We could wish that this might be left in oblivion during the present Maine canvass, but the nomination of their protege, Gen Roberts, seems to have brought them and their doings into view once more.

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

General Roberts, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Maine, receives the attention of one of his comrades in arms in an open letter which will appear in the Sunday journals of that State this morning. The picture presented by Col Smith of the peace Democracy of the war period is not overdrawn, though the colors are deep and are laid on with a bold hand. The country is doing its best to forget all about it, and would soon do so if the representatives of that traitorous combination had the sense to keep quiet. So long as they assert so loud the ghosts of the dead past will arise to confound them.

[From the Kennebec Journal.]

The letter of Col. Z. A. Smith of the Portland Press, to General Roberts, which we publish this morning, is a masterly exposure of the real character of the Democratic candidate while in the army, and the course he pursued after leaving it. No one can read this letter without understanding very fully why General Roberts is the choice of Marcellus Emery and E. E. Pillsbury, and the "personal magnetism" (as the Argus has it) which he exerts over the old Bourbon wing of the Democracy.

That "Comrade" of General Roberts who is ashamed to sign his name to his swaddle in the Commercial, first attempted to deceive by asserting that "when Bradbury was up for Governor, Gen Roberts had not left the field." He now attempts to say that Colonel Smith's letter had no bearing upon the nomination of Bradbury in 1868, when General Roberts was at home and supported him. But that was precisely the occasion to which Colonel Smith referred. The convention which nominated Gen Bradbury was held at Portland, August 6, 1863. Marcellus Emery was on the Committee on Resolutions from this county, and the platform opposed the prosecution of the war, denounced the draft, and endorsed the course of Governor Seymour, of New York, who addressed the draft rioters as "my friends." Gen. Anderson made a bitter anti-war speech and in reply to questions by that "patriot" Virgin Delphini Parris he said: "I think Mr. Bradbury's position is that of opposition to the war; with or without qualification he is opposed to the war." Another "patriot" Mr. Merrow, of Topsham, was not fully satisfied but wanted to know whether Mr. Bradbury, if elected, "would, as he would have a right to do, withdraw the troops now in the field." Mr Anderson referred the inquirer to the resolutions, saying "You have passed a resolution complimentary to Governor Seymour. When Governor Seymour withdraws the New York troops, then I pledge you that Sam Bradbury will withdraw the Massachusetts." Gen Roberts was not in the field" at this time but at home in full sympathy with the sentiments of that party to which Mr Pillsbury says the General has been true in all its vicissitudes

The Portland Press says: "The Bangor Commercial is whistling bravely to keep its courage up and seem to smile for Roberts' guns in the growing gloom. This does not at all correspond with the positive utterances of the business managers of the establishment, who, though a well known practic if temperance man, declined soon after the conversion, we are told, that the Democracy loses ten thousand votes by not adopting Mr. Ransom's resolution which he didn't present

The Progressive Age, after reading the Democratic resolutions and the speech of the nominee remarks: "We don't see but the Democrats are now all accommodated. Those who oppose the liquor law can go for the candidate and the others can go for the platform."

The Maine Democrat gravely says:

The Democratic resolutions are silent on the liquor question. The Democracy do not care just now to divert the attention of the people from the great issues.

The editor of the BANGOR WHIG AND COURIER has found it necessary to show up the war record of E. E. Pillsbury, editor of the Augusta Standard. It would be an advisable one—for an exhibition of editor.—Lewiston Journal.

The Mayor's letter to the City Marshal has created quite a flutter among the faithful. If he keeps on they will denounce him as a "ring-master."

United States have already swung into line and are booming the old Pine Tree State to join Ben Cuss Hall. That she will do so he had no doubt.—Miscellus Emery at the Bangor Serenade.

The 38 States are already beckoning her to join them. She ought to do so.—Hon. Albert Lefort in Augusta.

The resemblance between the above quotations is so very close that there is little doubt that they had a common parentage.—Lewiston Journal.

VEGETINE

PREPARED BY

H. R. STEVENS

THE GREAT

FAMILY MEDICINE

AND

HEALTH RESTORER,

General Debility.

Debility is a term used to denote deficiency of blood. The nutritive constituents of the blood are in less than their regular proportion, while the watery part is in excess. This fluid is of frequent occurrence. It is incident to a variety of diseases. The lower limbs are not to be avoided. The patient is feeble, and cannot bear much exertion. The circulation is irregular, but almost always quick. Palpitation of the heart is by any considerable exertion. Violent motion often throws the heart into the most tumultuous motion. The vital functions are laboriously performed. The muscular strength is diminished, fatigue follows moderate or slight exercise. The breathing, though quick, is not full, but becomes hurried and even painfully agitated under exertion, as in running, ascending hills, etc. The nervous system is often greatly disordered. Nervousness, dizziness, and a feeling of "all gone" are very common. Wakeful and restless nights pass in the head, side, breast, or other parts of the body, are also frequent attendants upon the disease. The secretions are sometimes disturbed. In females the menses are almost always either suppressed or very painfully performed. The skin is harsh and dry, and even in the midst of perspiration from the bowels and dyspepsia, states of the stomach are frequently observed symptoms.

MARVELOUS EFFECT

H. R. STEVENS

Dear Sir—I have used VEGETINE and find it my duty to acknowledge the great benefit it has done me. In the spring of the year 1868 I was taken down with debility, caused, as I supposed, by want of sleep and proper rest. I was very weak and much emaciated. I got many remedies, which proved worthless and destroyed, in the end, my appetite. I was persuaded to try VEGETINE. Before I had taken half one week my appetite returned, and I soon found myself much stronger. I continued to take it every day, gaining more strength and health. I was soon restored to perfect health. This is after I had given up all hope of ever enjoying health. This is after I had given up all hope of ever enjoying health. This is after I had given up all hope of ever enjoying

THE BROOKLYN TRIBUNE.

AN END AT LAST.

The Jury Discharged

NINE FOR BEECHER THREE FOR TILTON

SCENES IN THE COURT ROOM.

NAMES AND POSITION OF THE JURY.

Monitors Defying Arrest.

The Jury Ask to be Discharged.

BROOKLYN, June 2 This morning the Tilton Beecher jury sent a note to Judge Neilson saying that they were unable to agree and requesting to be discharged The Judge sent back a reply that he would do so. Notice was then sent to the counsel and the parties interested

Mrs Beecher.

When Mrs. Beecher, leaning on the arm of Usher Murray entered the court and A M—she found nearly all the prominent ladies and gentlemen of Plymouth church already seated in what are called the Beecher chairs. She looked exceedingly pale, worn and anxious. She sat between Dean Howard and John C. Southwick Mr. Wild, Sexton of Plymouth Church came to court for the first time to-day.

The Jury Discharged.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Judge Neilson entered the Court accompanied by Judge Hakeman At 11.20 A M the jury were discharged The Foreman says they have taken much pains not to disclose how they stood Judge Neilson then visited Both understood that they were not even to one The jury came into court at 11.20 Clerk—Gentlemen have you agreed upon a verdict?

Foreman (rising)—We have not. We nevertheless regret that we found it impossible to agree.

Remarks of Judge Neilson.

Judge—Gentlemen, I learn by a note received early this morning from your foreman that in your opinion you should be discharged as you could not agree, and some of your members are suffering in health. I felt the force of that application very strongly, and I have called you for now at the earliest moment I could do so giving to counsel and others an opportunity to be present As we are about to separate, gentlemen, I would like you to carry away kindly recollections and as far as you can remove whatever chagrin you may have felt at being detained so long I wish you to recollect that not until you had by the vote you suggested that you could not agree and that suggestion came by a note from your foreman signed by eleven of your number, and accompanied by one from another juror who thought an agreement was possible While I had perfect confidence in the request made by the eleven and the explanation made by the two men, I felt that something was due to the twelfth juryman upon a note saying, you ought not to be discharged. I had something to say privately at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and I allowed that juryman (Tilton) to devote his time to bringing about an agreement, so far as he could I learn from a note just sent me from the jury that you are, as stated yesterday by your foreman, now unable to agree. And further that the disagreement is in reference to the weight of testimony and the credibility of witnesses Not even in my charge could I find means of helping you on this point. It is a well-settled point, it is impossible that the weight of testimony and what witnesses they can believe, and what not, and the Court has no right to interfere. I am glad to be assured that this disagreement does not arise from any want of attention on my part, or overlooking any point, and God knows there were some points on which I could do nothing. There is one point to which attention has been called, and I would like to learn from the jury explicitly that the application to take further testimony has not in any way clouded your vision or occupied your thoughts directly or indirectly

Foreman—You are right, sir. I have questioned many of the jury and they all tell me they hadn't it in their thoughts at all

Judge—I am much gratified to hear it and since you tell me you cannot agree I will therefore discharge you.

Clerk—Gentlemen, you are now discharged

The Jury Couldn't be Photographed

The Clerk requested the jury to remain seated for the moment while photographers were taking a picture of the Court. Messrs Jeffreys, Hines and Case stood up and objected to being photographed, and the Judge at once said, "Gentlemen, you may go." "The way there for the jury."

A Ruth for the Jury—Reported Standing Nine to Three.

An immense rush was made for the jurors in the Court and outside and they were closely questioned as to how they stood but they all declared that they were pledged to secrecy as to names. Foreman Carpenter, however, finally admitted that they stood 9 to 3. Tilton and Moulton were standing in the rear of the Court amongst the audience, not being able to force their way further through the crowd, when the last scene in the Tilton Beecher drama was acted and the curtain fell.

An Affecting Scene.

As the jury were leaving Mrs Beecher stood by the railing with tears streaming down her cheeks and shook hands with each juror as he went by. The foreman was the last in passing out, and he seized her hand in both of his and shook it with great warmth. There is not the slightest excitement in Brooklyn over the result of the trial

The Leader-Price Affair—Beach Intimates that the Case will be Thoroughly Sifted.

NEW YORK, July 2 One of Beecher's lawyers on being asked if Moulton was to be arrested stated that he could not answer in the affirmative, but that action would not be Brooklyn in consolidating Gen Butler down East Mr Beach has intimated that next week there will be a more earnest effort made to get at the bottom of the Leader-Price conspiracy. He felt Swearingen that he would be called on to testify as to his connection with the case. It was asserted last night that Mr John D Townsend of New York would appear to defend Leader next week.

A Denial from Tilton.

Mr. Tilton said last evening that he was not in the room when the affidavits were made and that he never uttered a syllable of instruction to Price as to what he should or should not say when he was called on to testify

Mr. Beach's Value of a Verdict.

In regard to the jury's delay in making up their minds to agree or disagree, Mr. Beach said last night it was unprecedented in this country for a jury to stay out seven days, and he was not aware that it ever occurred anywhere. The fact that the jury deliberated seven days before making any report, is pretty good evidence that they were earnest and diligent in their efforts to agree and that their difference was irreconcilable I do not think, added Mr. Beach, that under the circumstances a verdict either way would carry with it any moral force or effect the public sentiment. I should say so even were the verdict to be in our favor

The Reported Tilton Jurors—What Tilton Thinks of the Result.

The three jurors for Tilton are said to be Jeffreys, Hines and Davis. Tilton says the result is a moral victory for him. Everybody seems pleased at the termination of the long trial.

A Card from Moulton.

NEW YORK, July 2. The following explains itself:

To the Editor of the Argus:

Sir—The New York Tribune, a paper in the interest of Henry Ward Beecher, published this morning the following paragraph: The friendship of Tilton and Moulton is the friendship of Damon and Pythias. Moulton has gone to France. Any man of the least discernment of the inner influences of Moses and Leader, that counsel for Rev. Beecher were already taken steps to indict one or more of the jurors as well as subornation of perjury, and will mean application to go before the return to Brooklyn before the Grand Jury meets he will be arrested, and last examination on be had Preliminary to action by the Grand Jury." A judicial examination of the origin of the Price and Shaeber affidavits and of my connection with them is exactly the thing I desire. Accordingly I have returned to Brooklyn to meet the menace of Beecher's minions, and I hereby challenge him to-day there to institute their contemplated proceedings.

(Signed) FREDERICK D MOULTON.

No. 124 Montague street, Brooklyn July 2, 1875.

The Standing of the Jury During the Deliberations as given by the Brooklyn Eagle.

The Brooklyn Eagle publishes on account of the deliberations of the jury said to be obtained from one of their number. When first they retired the 12 took an informal ballot, which made Moulton stand for Beecher and for Tilton. The ballot at another time showed Miss Beecher and for Tilton, and on Friday last a ballot taken stood the jury to stand 6 to 6 Saturday morning this was changed to 9 for Beecher and for Tilton. After during the day they

Come to an Agreement.

Some were in favor of going in Court at once, but unfortunately for Beecher it was determined that the should delay their return to the Court in until 8 that evening, when they would hand the Judge a sealed verdict.

A Discussion.

At this moment one of the Beecher men made an indiscreet remark which led to a discussion and the three who had taken up their former position, so that the jury again stood nine to three and from this there was no variation.

A List Showing the Correct Division

The following is a correct account of the division of the jurymen:

For Beecher—Chester Carpenter, Griffin B. Hollister, Henry Thyer, George Hall, Christopher Kiffer, A. R. Case, Edward Wheelan, John McMurry and John P Taylor.

For Tilton—Wm. T. Jeffrey, Samuel Plate and Wm H Davis.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

Calf skins 16 @ 18

Lamb Skins, 50 each.

Pelts, 1 50 @ 2 00 each.

One thing has been noticed in the Brighton market for a long time, and that is not one week ago. Parties upon it would have taken off fully 5 cents per lb. from the quality of the Cattle [illegible] than not so good as those of one week ago, there being many less of a good grade in market, as a general thing. Those in which sold at 6 @ 6½ c lb. Those were but few lots of Cattle sold at our highest quotations. The supply of Southern and Eastern Cattle appears to be small, most of the Cattle coming from the West.

Working Oxen—Not much call for them and but few pairs in market for sale. Trade for Working Oxen will not amount to much while Cattle [illegible] are so freely from the North and Maine.

Store Cattle—Not much call for them. Most of the small Cattle that are in a fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Milch Cows—Sales, 75 at $35, ordinary qual'y at $28 @ head. The prices for Milch Cows do not vary much from week to week. Good Cows or Fresh Keys of the Cows that are in a fair condition are bought up to slaughter.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the West were all sorted by butchers, and were bought at Brighton [illegible] 6 @ 6½ c lb. Lambs from 7½ @ 8½ c lb. From the North the supply was light, prices same as those of one week ago.

Swine—No store Pigs in market. Fat, Hogs 1,200 in market, prices 5 @ 5½ c lb.

MOWING MACHINE TRIAL.—A field trial of mowers was held on the grounds of the Agricultural College, at Hanover, N. H., June 29th. The committee was appointed one each by the Senate and House Committee on Agriculture of the New Hampshire Legislature, one by the State Board of Agriculture one by the N. H. Agricultural Society, and one by the Connecticut Valley Farmers' Club. The first and only prize of $75 was awarded to the New Model Buckeye entered by the Richardson Manufacturing Co., of Worcester, Mass., which showed forty per cent lighter draft than any other over the Walter A. Wood, Clipper, Granite State, Eastern Star, and People's mowers, and the Buckeye was retained for use on the College farm. In one very severe test, that of drawing the machine into heavy standing grass while thrown out of gear, and then throwing it into gear and starting without backing, the Buckeye succeeded in doing it three successive times. Only one other machine succeeded in doing it at all, and that only once.

At the field trial of mowers, held under the auspices of the Essex County Agricultural Society, at Danvers, June 22, and which was an unusual hot contest, the New Model Buckeye was awarded the first premium over the Walter A. Wood's Eagle, Warrior and Garfield mowers.

DR. EARLE'S TESTIMONIAL. Mr. James L. Fellows, Manufacturing Chemist—Sir: For several months past I have used your Compound Syrup in the treatment of incipient phthisis, chronic bronchitis, and other affections of the chest, and I have no hesitation in saying that it ranks foremost amongst the remedies used in those diseases. Being an excellent nervous tonic, it exerts a direct influence on the nervous system, and through it invigorates the body.

It affords me pleasure to recommend a remedy which is really good in cases for which it is intended, which so many advertised are worse than useless.

I am, Sir, yours truly,

DAISIES AND BUTTERCUPS.

BY RESSEQUA H. PURRIS.

Daisies and buttercups
Golden and white,
Your heads gaily nodding
So happy and bright,
I've watched for your coming,
My dwellings, full long,
Since Summer's sweet advent,
With fragrance and song!

Have the hours glided cheerily
Since you were here—
All through the winter
So cold and so drear—
While you've been housekeeping
Down under ground,
Away from the sight of folks,
Hid safe and sound?

I watch your bright faces
Amid the green grass,
So pleasantly nodding
To all as they pass
No responder of sorrows
In there among you,
With a nod and a smile
For only a few!

Sweet, pleasant pictures
You are to my sight!
Daisies and buttercups
Golden and white!
Gracefully swaying
In billowy seas
To and fro, soft and slow,
Rocked by the breeze!

PHYSICIANS CORNERED.

Cupid's Hymen is not in the vocabulary of physicians, neither advice nothing to humanity, although which, the world has hymn this and pity to such as exhausted to witness the excruciating pangs of a poor unreal suffering from that fearful disease, Rheumatism. Heretofore there has been considerable diversity of opinion among medical men as to the real seat or center of the disease, some locating it in the liver or muscular tissues of the system, and thus treating it as an active nervous disease, but I'm no regularly individual to be led astray. Arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and until that is exhausted blood purification only, never to be thoroughly cured without extermination of the poison-ous matter from the blood by a constitutional remedy. We feel confident all those who will feel better satisfied and rejoice more than the cross jealous physicians who has found out that a true cure for this stubborn disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a Portland gentleman cannot fail to satisfy all that the

Diamond Rheumatic Cure

is a wonderful Medical Discovery.

PORTLAND, Dec 31, 1874

Prof. Alphonse Hider

Dear Sir,—Unsolicited by you, I wish to bear testimony to the efficacy of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. During the past year I have suffered great pain from the common name agonizing affection, Rheumatism. My shoulder was affected first, and I tried many powders and I despaired of ever again having the use of that limb. I was induced, by friends, to try the many quack medicines, but finally left the agent while staying at the Preble House to buy a bottle. It's enough now to say that I have used it to the whole bottle, by the time I had taking of the small bottle, I was entirely relieved. And now I have quite stopped, and I can roll all right and free from pain, which no other cure ever did. I attribute to the use of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I feel the happiness to pass on to my fellowmen and recommend it to the hands of suffering humanity.

FURTHER PROOF.

CAPE ELIZABETH, Nov 12, 1874

Prof. Alphonse Hider

Dear Sir,—This is to certify that I have been a borderer sufferer from inflammatory Rheumatism for the last three years and during the last year my sufferings have been beyond description. I have tried everything I could hear of but obtained no relief until I tried the "Diamond Rheumatic Cure." It is truly a wonderful remedy. Respectfully yours, AMANDA E. BROWN

Mrs. Capt. Wallace is known in this neighborhood.

The discovery of this medicine was like the index finger in the middle of London, pointing to the passage in the making the inhabitants a speechless and the place resulting from which. This remedy is now offered to all for one dollar per bottle, which is very low. It is simple, costs sometimes one or two times suffice. In the most chronic cases it is safe to say in the line of four or five bottles. Put up and prepared for the Mass Laboratory Association by W. CONNER 165 Court St., Boston. For sale by druggists. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock, ask him to send for it to the wholesale agents.
